Welcome to the 2010 Bungay Summer Festival.

Once again Bungay is using the month of July to show to residents and visitors what the town has to offer and to that end most organisations, societies, clubs and churches are staging a special event.

The Bungay Festival has, for over twenty years, been an internal event with very little entertainment sourced from outside the town, which means that organisations have a chance to attract more members and individuals have a means of sharing a special skill with others. The ever-popular Ale Trails will show our pubs to a wider populace and the annual Antiques Market is sure to attract its usual thousands of visitors. Music, literature, theatre, art and architecture are some of the focal points as well as a Flower Festival and numerous sporting engagements

All details of these and many more interesting items are detailed in this programme, which once again has been printed for us by the generosity of Messrs. Clays. We thank them most sincerely for making such a contribution in these straitened times as indeed we thank all who have helped to produce and contribute in any way to this Bungay Festival.
